

compassion a reflection on pdf

Self-compassion is a process of self kindness and accepting suffering as a quality of being human. It has positive effects on subjective happiness, optimism, wisdom, curiosity, agreeableness, and extroversion. Kristin Neff and Christopher Germer have identified that there are three levels of activities that thwart self-compassion and they are self-criticism, self-isolation and self-absorption ...

Compassion - Wikipedia

Self-compassion is extending compassion to one's self in instances of perceived inadequacy, failure, or general suffering. Kristin Neff has defined self-compassion as being composed of three main components – self-kindness, common humanity, and mindfulness. Barring superficial semantic distinction, it is similar to self-acceptance notion in CBT or Morita therapy.

Our minds are shaped from birth by our environment, and soon we think we really understand – what is right – and – correct. Part of being alive to God and Christ is allowing God's presence in us of love and compassion and kindness to rise, like sap in the maple trees in spring, and to waken new eyes to see beyond our cultural and religious training.
