

real time embedded multithreading pdf

In computer science, real-time computing (RTC), or reactive computing describes hardware and software systems subject to a "real-time constraint", for example from event to system response. Real-time programs must guarantee response within specified time constraints, often referred to as "deadlines". The correctness of these types of systems depends on their temporal aspects as well as their ...

`lua_createtable [-0, +1, m] void lua_createtable (lua_State *L, int narr, int nrec);` Creates a new empty table and pushes it onto the stack. The new table has space pre-allocated for `narr` array elements and `nrec` non-array elements. This pre-allocation is useful when you know exactly how many elements the table will have.

`lua_checkstack [-0, +0, â€œ"] int lua_checkstack (lua_State *L, int n);` Ensures that the stack has space for at least `n` extra slots (that is, that you can safely push up to `n` values into it). It returns false if it cannot fulfill the request, either because it would cause the stack to be larger than a fixed maximum size (typically at least several thousand elements) or because it cannot ...
